

CORPORATE OVERVIEW

Inflector Environmental Services was founded in 1994 by Jeffrey Clarke Sr. as a Division of J.R. Clarke & Associates. Working for the company since he was 16 years old, Jeff W. Clarke Jr. succeeded his father as President and CEO in 2014.

Inflector is built on the commitment made by Jeffrey Clarke Sr. to help our clients resolve their problems in a discreet, professional and timely manner.

We provide innovative, competitive, and high-quality solutions for the removal of hazardous materials in private and public enterprises. We are committed to finishing all contracts within budget and on time, and in a safe and healthy work environment for our clients and employees.

Inflector staff has the knowledge and experience to work under any conditions in any location from the city centre to remote barely accessible areas. We have worked coast to coast in Canada including the Northwest Territories. We are capable and confident to take on abatement projects of any size, anywhere.

Inflector has the technical expertise, equipment, machinery and skilled workforce coupled with a proven track record on projects of any magnitude offering selective and total demolition and asbestos abatement services. The Inflector team has worked on and directly supervised many projects in public and private institutions, commercial and industrial facilities, corporate offices -many of which were with highly secure and clearance required environments.

Behind each successful project stands the Inflector Team – a talented group of approachable professionals with over 35 years of experience dedicated to absolute perfection on each new project.

Inflector Environmental Services has earned a reputation for providing superior quality project management services through our commitment to completing projects in a timely fashion and within budget – a hard-earned reputation we enthusiastically maintain.
